St. Joseph's Newsletter

Issue 010- 25 November 2019

As you will be aware from previous newsletters we place a high emphasis on educating our children to be able to thrive in secondary school both academically and socially. I wanted to take this opportunity to talk to you about the importance of growing resilience in our children. There have been several occasions in school where parents have contacted me with regards to their children's emotions which is exactly what we would encourage you to do. It is really important we work in partnership to support our children if they are upset or worried and to develop in them the tools and strategies to overcome this. There will be occasions when your child may be upset or worried and may even be finding it hard to build relationships. We want them to know that this is perfectly natural and there are many things you can do to overcome this. What we don't want them to do is hide away or even run away from these feelings. It is very important that we work in partnership to address these problems head on, so that in future our children will know what to do and who to speak to.

If you ever have any concerns, no matter how big or small, about your child please come in to the school with these concerns and we will work together to get the best outcome for all involved.

E-Safety Lead

At St Joseph's we teach our children about the importance of online safety on a daily basis and we have a reporting system in place should there be any concerns. I wanted to inform parents as well that if they have any concerns about any online activity from their children or their friends please report these to me as the schools E-Safety Lead.

Thank you, Mr Jobburns

School Lottery

Congratulations to Emily Heath on winning this weeks lottery. If you would like to be in with the chance of winning a cash prize and supporting the school at the same time please go on to the school website and look under parents/school lottery for details of how to enter.
